

BURGLARS BUSY ON EAST SIDE

Robberies of Stores a Nightly Occurrence and Business Men Have Appealed to the Police in Vain They Say.

THIEVES ARE ALL EXPERTS.

They Deftly Cut the Burglar Alarm Wires and Haul Their Plunder Away in Wagons Without Any Interference.

These are only a few of the burglaries that have been committed on the lower east side in the past ten days or two weeks. Many others have been committed and reported to the police, who have instructed the robbed persons to keep silent. There also have been many hold-ups and assaults. The known list of robberies follows:

Gross Millinery Store, Nos. 25-27, Division street.	$3,000.
M. Garfinkel, millinery, No. 33 East Broadway.	2,000.
Rothkowsky's fur store, No. 58 East Broadway.	1,000.
Joseph Rosenthal, wholesale cloth, ing, No. 44 East Broadway.	2,000.
A. Fineman, clothing, No. 48 East Broadway.	1,000.
R. Rosenthal, clothing, No. 54 East Broadway.	1,000.
Julius Feiberg, residence, No. 294 East Broadway.	5,000.
Total.	$15,000.

Under the very noses of the police robberies have become so frequent and so bold on the east side of the city that business men have asked The Evening World to make public a condition of affairs that is growing worse every night. Hardly a night passes that some store is not entered boldly by burglars, who defy locks and keys and burglar alarms as they do the police. Thousands of dollars' worth of property has been stolen and disposed of at fences that are being run as openly as the stores that have been robbed.

Police Seem to Be Helpless.

The persons who have been robbed have appealed to the police in vain. Police Capt. Shaw, of the Madison street station, has a record of the houses that have been robbed and the value of the goods that have been stolen. He has stationed his men along East Broadway, which seems to be the principal street selected by the robbers, but to no effect. While the police watched one store all through the night the robbers would be busy across the street, and in the morning the proprietor would find that nearly all his stock of goods had been carried away.

That the same thieves have robbed all the houses and are working in conjunction with the same seller of stolen goods there is no doubt. The thieves seem to have any quantity of duplicate keys with which almost any door can be opened without so much as inquiry. The look or springing the hinges. Most of these stores are equipped with burglar alarms, but never once has one of the alarms of the entered houses sounded a warning. In the gang of thieves there is some man who understands these alarms to a degree. The alarms are cut through a crack in the door and then the thieves work in comparative safety.

Burglar Alarm Wire Cut.

In the robbery of M. Garfinkel's place, at No. 33 East Broadway, the alarm was cut through a small opening in the door after a key was found which would work the heavy lock. Then the goods were piled high in the front of the store by some of the gang. Later a wagon, such as peddlers use on the east side, was driven slowly down the street. In front of No. 33 the driver pulled up his horse and began to unlash some part of his harness. At the same instant men ran from the store and piled up the boxes of goods in the rear of the wagon. They filled the wagon full. By this time the driver had unhitched his horse. He took his place on the seat and drove off, and the police were none the wiser until next day when Garfinkel reported his loss.

Some days after the Garfinkel robbery a man who keeps a store came to Garfinkel and reported to him that he had nine pieces of his stolen goods.

"Where did you get them?" asked Garfinkel.

"I bought them," the man replied. "I'm not telling you I know."

The nine pieces of goods were returned to their owner, but the other pieces, amounting in value to more than $1,000, were never heard of.

None of the other storekeepers who have suffered from the thieves has recovered any part of his goods. The police say they have hunted high and low for the stolen property, but without avail.

Presence of Mind.

(From the Chicago Tribune.)

Hearing a smothered cough behind the palms in the rear of the hall where they were holding a woman's convention the athletic doorknocker made a foray in that direction and dragged forth an undersized man who was taking notes of the proceedings.

"Ladies," he said in an agitated voice, "please let me stay. I hate Senator Root and the army extent a thousand times worse than you do!"

It was a desperate chance, but it saved him, and he was invited to a seat on the platform.

An Easy Remedy.

(From the Philadelphia Press.)

Miss May Dupp—I just can't bear to walk in the hot sun. Freckles show so awfully in my complexion.

Miss Peppy—You don't say? Perhaps you don't put your complexion on thick enough.

Can You Come Early? If Not, Christmas Corner Is Open Until 10.

jewelry store ask. We have 500 patterns, and merely as an exhibit of art and science our Clock Department will more than repay a call. As we buy in great quantities, we can sell at low prices, especially as clocks, like other goods we sell but do not make, are bought direct of the manufacturers. To guard against defective work (it will occur sometimes, in spite of all the manufacturer's care) we have every individual clock looked after by a skilled workman. More than that, our clock salesmen are practical men, who will take pleasure in answering all questions. We import cuckoo clocks direct from Germany.

Pretty soon we shall stop urging you to buy your Christmas presents early, for A Stately Mantel Clock.

Syrian bronze finish art nouveau clock, surmounted by a spirited figure. It is 23 inches high and 11½ inches wide, and the dial is 4½ inches wide. Rococo sash, with bevelled glass and porcelain dial. Roman or Arabic figures. Tells off the hours faithfully for eight days at one winding. Gong strikes half-hourly. How well it would look on your mantel you cannot imagine without seeing the clock itself. Price $17.00.

Locket with a Diamond Sun.

"Springtime" locket; solid 14-karat gold, rose finish, beautiful woman's head. The sun is represented by a fine diamond. A charming present. Price $16.50.

Indian Head and Diamond Sunshine.

An ideal Indian head adorns this locket of solid 14-karat gold; Pompeian finish. A diamond sun shines on the two wigwags in the background. Price $16.00.

Others in Solid Gold, $5.00 up.

Diamonds Set in Dumbbell Links.

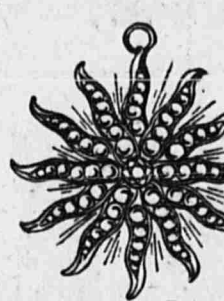

Why they are called dumbbell sleeve links is plain to everybody who looks at them. Always a welcome gift to a man, no matter how many other pairs he may have, for the LAMBERT links, in any of the countless patterns, have a distinction of style altogether their own. This pair is solid 14-karat gold, and each link is set with an extra fine diamond. Price $75.00.

Brilliant Grouping of Diamonds.

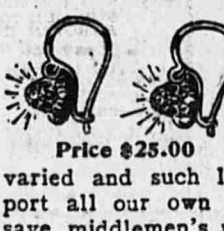

An exquisite hand-made brooch or pendant, of solid 14-karat gold, paved with pearls. A fine diamond in the centre and twelve others grouped about it like planets about a sun. Indistinctly shown in cut. Price $100.

Sunburst with Pearls and Diamonds.

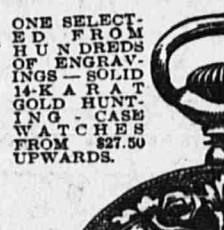

Pearl-paved sunburst of uncommon beauty with fine diamond flashing in the centre. Hand-some, solid gold. A sumptuous addition to any woman's jewel case. Price $30.

Sparkling Earrings at Low Prices.

Of the making of earrings there is no end, but only at the LAMBERT store do you find such style, such varied and such low prices. We import all our own diamonds, and thus save middlemen's profit. A great advantage to the customer, since he can buy the drop earrings indistinctly shown in the upper cut for $25. The mounting is solid 14-karat gold and the stones are finely matched. The screw earrings in the lower cut contain pretty diamonds, and are yours for $10.

Fine Timekeeper, Richly Engraved.

ONE SELECTED FROM HUNDREDS OF ENGRAVINGS—SOLID 14-KARAT GOLD HUNTING CASE IN A CASE FROM $27.50 UPWARDS.

Luxuriantly and intricately engraved solid 14-karat gold hunting case, heavier than usual. Fitted with full jewelled Waltham, Elgin or LAMBERT works. Price $57.50.

An Array of Fine Diamond Rings.

Just as much pains taken with this dainty bit of work as with the costliest piece we exhibit. One of the most popular Rings that ever came from the LAMBERT factory. Solid 14-karat mounting, hand made. Price $25.00.

In this ring you will see a trio of diamonds so alike in size and brilliancy that only an expert could tell them apart. Solid 14-karat gold, hand-made mounting. A credit even to the skilled LAMBERT workmen, and the price is but $50.00.

This Lady's Ring, with two fine diamonds and a real sapphire, in 14-karat solid gold, hand-made setting, is notable for its elegance and simplicity. A brilliant example of LAMBERT methods. By cutting off middlemen's profits we sell it for $165.00.

Forget-Me-Nots on a Chain Bracelet.

This chain bracelet is solid 14-karat gold, enamelled with Forget-Me-Nots. One of an assortment so great and varied that it includes every desirable style of bracelet made. This one with a pearl in the centre sells for $22.50. We have the same pattern with diamond set in the knob, $30.00.

Gem-Set Slides in Guard Chains.

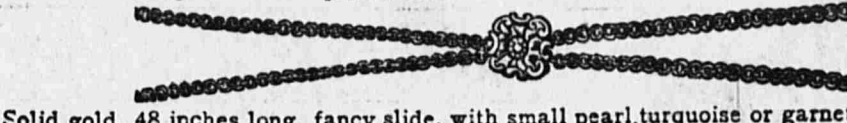

The LAMBERT-made guard chains deserve more than passing attention; not one substantial quality is sacrificed or even lessened by making them so artistic and handsome that they are praised wherever they are seen. When you see our assortment you will wonder how beauty in chains and slides could take in so many fascinating forms. We choose a few chains for illustration. There are other designs by the hundred, ranging in price from $10.75 to $50.00.

Solid 14-karat gold cable link, 48 inches long. Slide set with turquoise centre in a circle of eleven carefully selected diamonds. The diamonds are larger than the cut shows. Price $90.00.

This heart-shaped slide is hand-made, and set with a selected diamond. The chain is solid 14-karat gold. Price $35.00.

Solid gold, 48 inches long, fancy slide, with small pearl, turquoise or garnet in the centre. Price $10.75.

From the Best of Chainmakers.

Solid 14-karat gold vest chains are among the things we DO not make. We buy them of a manufacturer who turns out the best chains we know of, and sells to the best trade only. He is his own factory superintendent and his own head salesman. Since he has reduced the cost of producing these chains to a rock-bottom figure, we can sell them at a narrow margin of profit, and we guarantee them to be the best chains in the market. To-day we exhibit three simple but admirable samples of solid 14-karat gold Vest Chains, regular length. Price $12.50; double vest or Dickens, price $16.00.

Price $20; double vest or Dickens, price $27.50.

Price $17.50; double vest or Dickens, price $25.00.

A Word About Neckchains.

The LAMBERT assortment of Neckchains is so large that a word about them is timely. They are mostly hand made and come in all lengths. We have neckchains of solid gold, from $2.00 up; 14-karat gold, $3.00 up.

A hand-made solid 14-karat Gold Brooch, plain polished scrolls and fine Diamond in the centre, $35. A handsome and reasonably priced gift.

Vest Pocket Opera Glasses.

La Reine Opera Glasses may be carried in the vest pocket. They are collapsible and take up a space only half an inch thick. For some time they have been popular in Europe and they are fast finding favor in this country. As the lenses fold back inside, no case is needed. Covered with black morocco. Glasses are powerful and have a large field. Handy for your own use, and a most acceptable gift to a friend. Price $9.00.

Always the Same—Seamless Wedding Rings.

Here is the article that has done more than any other to make our reputation—the LAMBERT seamless wedding ring, always in season and worn by happy matrons in every State in the Union. Standards of gold and workmanship have never varied in 27 years. Every ring made on the premises and guaranteed. All weights and widths—14, 18 and 22 karat. Prices $3 to $20. No charge for engraving.

One of Our Standard Watches.

The LAMBERT stock of watches is the largest and most complete in New York. It is highest in quality, lowest in price. As all watches are taken apart by our experts and carefully examined before they are offered for sale, WE GUARANTEE EVERY ONE. Buyers of watches have repeatedly asked us to select for them, such is their faith in our integrity and judgment.

The watch of which we exhibit a cut has a solid 14-karat gold hunting case, richly engraved, and fitted with Waltham, Elgin or LAMBERT movement. Price $27.50.

Three Out of Many Beautiful Brooches.

One of our daintiest rose bud brooches, if we may make comparisons in our jewelry department, where all the work is so delicate and graceful. Solid 14-karat gold, with baroque pearl and enamelled flower; diamonds in centre. Price $30.00.

Half of this solid 14-karat gold brooch is plain and half is engraved and enamelled. The contrast between the two parts gives a unique charm. Selected diamond in centre. Price $15.
